The Junior School Hindi Elocution Competition which was held this year was a great success. Preparations for the elocution started in the month of January. It was indeed very heartening to hear our boys reciting poems with great zeal and proving themselves as great elocutionist.

The esteemed panel of judges comprising of Mr. Deokar and Mrs. Reenu Sharma, both hailing from the senior school Hindi Department, highly appreciated the brave efforts of all the participants.

The oratory skills displayed by the participants were of the highest order.

The choice of poems, pronunciation, diction, clarity etc were also commended .

Rishu Singh of class 5 won a thundering applause for his well elocuted poem titled “AISA APNA HUSBAND HO”

The teachers of the Junior School Hindi Department worked hard to prepare the students for the competition.

The Hindi Elocution Competition was an endeavour to instil a sense of pride for the national language among the students.
