A BRIEF REPORT.

On 26th June 2013, The Bishop's Co-Ed School Kalyani Nagar presented the Phule Shahu Ambedkar Bahujan Vikas Pratishthan with books and stationery. This was an annual exercise to reach out to children who are less privileged. That morning, a special assembly was organized to welcome Mr Sonawane and his team. Our Headmaster – Mr F. Bunyan, Mrs S. Guha, Mr A. Freese, a few other teachers and the prefect body were present.

The assembly commenced with the Bible Reading and a short speech in Marathi by Chaitrali Mahadik. A few prefects then presented our guests with the stationery. Mr Sonawane enlightened us with a few words – explaining to us how much our contributions meant and expressing his heartfelt gratitude. A small prayer was offered to the Almighty, thanking Him for the opportunity to carry out this selfless act in His name and asking Him to bless the donation.

It is truly touching to know that a little child somewhere was provided with a slate, notebook and pencil of his or her own to write, learn and grow. Little hands were blest with the precious gift of learning.

Our school is known for the meaningful charity and donations that we do. So far, we have devoted about ₹1 crore to charity. We also actively participate in the 'Joy of Giving campaign' – ensuring that every single student can experience the love and joy of charity personally. Our CEO and Hon. Secretary, Mr Frank Freese, has always given great importance to helping the underprivileged. He has taught us to remember and always live by our duty of 'giving back' in whatever way we can. We consider it our responsibility to share all that we have with the needy. We are proud to say that our school has taught us to be good citizens of our country and of the world by enabling us to contribute to such a noble cause.
