A BRIEF REPORT

The Bishop's Co-Ed School, Undri, held its 'Prefect Investiture' ceremony on the 8th of July 2014. Prefects Investiture, in layman's terms, is the swearing in and honouring of school leaders.

The ceremony began at 9.30 a.m. with the Bible reading by the incumbent Head boy, Udhbav Bharadwaj. This was followed by the school choir singing the hymn 'Hold the Fort' – a solemn hymn, very apt as these young students, the future pillars of the nation, were all set to don the mantle of leadership and shoulder the responsibilities entrusted upon them by the school.

Thereafter, the flag party comprising of the Head boy, the Head girl, the sports and house captains marched with élan towards the stage to receive their honours. Their faces reflected pride, responsibility and a sense of purpose as they moved towards the dais, to receive the honours from the CEO and Honorary Secretary of The Bishop's Schools, Mr Frank Freese.

An impressive presentation ceremony led by the Head Master, Mr Henry Soggee and the administrative staff witnessed the students accepting ties and badges as emblems of their resolve to be "Thorough" in all their endeavours during the ensuing year.

Mr Freese led all present in prayer, with a special mention of the newly appointed prefects. He also emphasised on good leadership, discipline, efficiency and setting a personal example for all other students to follow. He exhorted the prefects to strive for excellence as true 'BISHOPITES.'

The ceremony ended with the rendition of the school song and the national anthem.
