A BRIEF REPORT

Music is a forte in which the students of Undri excel and with every passing year the bar is raised during the inter-house competition. The competition kicked off with the rendition of the Test piece – "Standing on the promises of God" by all the four houses. It was a pleasure to listen to the same piece being sung differently at the same time each as good as the next. Then came the Solo, Duet and Trio which made life very difficult for the judges to choose which house was the best. This was followed by the Group Songs in the Junior category. Our little ones voices rang free, filling the atmosphere with joy and leaving a smile on every face. The group songs in the Senior category though fiercely competitive were highly enjoyable. The curtain came down with the Grand Finale with all the four houses singing the Test Piece in unison. Besides the singing the simple yet tasteful costumes of all the categories added to the glamour of the morning.
