A BRIEF REPORT

After two successful 'in situ projects', the Ecofriends group was now ready for their first 'ex situ programme'. So, Akash Bhalerao (the founder) choose a spot at Senapati Bapat Road, Hanuman Tekdi for a tree plantation programmme.

On reaching the place at 9:15 am, the members were greeted by Mr.Purandare who explained about the various species of snakes, birds and endangered species of plants. The children were taken by awe and surprise when they showed them the artificial nesting technique. About 26 birds had habited the nests.

After this introduction, the group started trekking to their destination. Enroute, Mr. Kanojiya explained to them about the need to conserve nature and its various methods. After reaching the destination the group, consisting of 25 students was divided into 5 groups of 5 members each. Each one was assigned various jobs. Each group was given a certain number of saplings which had to be planted. Harvested rain water was used for watering the saplings in the loosened soil.

In all, 16 saplings had been planted; namely mango, katesavar, and peepal. It was definitely an enriching experience for all those who participated as it helped widen the horizons of the thought process of not only the students but also the teachers.
